

Leadership Questionnaires Now Available in Japanese

September 23, 2005 — Management Research Group® is pleased to announce the availability of Japanese versions of the Leadership Effectiveness Analysis™ (LEA) Questionnaires used for self- and observer-feedback. At MRG, we strive to provide high-quality translations so that people around the globe can benefit from our products. If you are doing business with those who speak Japanese, you'll appreciate our translated assessment questionnaires and the accurate results and powerful insights they provide.

MRG's leadership assessments are available in 12 languages with 19 country- or region-specific norms drawn from a vast database. This suite of Strategic Leadership Development products is based on MRG's leading-edge research, a proven assessment methodology and real-world business experience — that's why leading organizations in more than 60 countries rely on MRG assessments.
